FOOD FOR FREEDOM

GUARANTEED!

CROP INSURANCE CONTRACT

What is a guaranteed wheat yield worth to you? What would you pay for such assurance? Would you seed an extra bushel of wheat to the acre? Or spread an extra 200 pounds of fertilizer to the acre if it meant the difference between crop failure and some wheat to sell?

Of course you would. Yet you don't have to do either of these things and you still can be guaranteed a wheat crop!

How?

By insuring your wheat against loss!

Crop insurance is a simple, easy, and convenient way of getting ALL-RISK protection at LOW COST! And you don't have to pay cash for it. Buy crop insurance now and pay later!

All-risk insurance will protect you against crop loss caused by:

Insects

Drought

Wind

Storm

Fire

Flood

Plant disease

Hail

And all other UNAVOIDABLE hazards!

You can be guaranteed 50 percent or 75 percent of your average yield—at a premium cost based on the average crop loss of your farm during past years. (The national average premium per acre for the United States in 1941 was about 1.20 bushels.) Assured yields mean assured income to help you produce Food for Freedom.

Buying

insurance now and paying later is possible with the noninterest-bearing commodity note, which is a part of the application. You must insure all the farms in the county in which you have an interest in the wheat crop. Only ONE application is necessary. The non-interest-bearing commodity note permits you to pay your premium any one of several ways:

With wheat or the cash equivalent on or before the day the note is due;

By deducting the amount of the premium from your indemnity, if any;

By deducting the premium from any Government payment due you under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture;

By deducting the premium from any loan you obtain under any commodity loan program administered by the United States Department of Agriculture.

All insurance contracts cover a 3-year period. Thus your protection is not for one year. Or two years. But THREE years! Your premium will NOT be increased during that period. You can, if you wish, cancel the last year of insurance upon written application to your county AAA committee. Such request must be made not later than the last day for receiving applications during the second year of the insurance period. Wise farmers, however, do not consider cancellation of their contract good business. They want—and keep—all the protection they can get.

That means wheat crop income when failure strikes. Then an insured farmer, whose production is less than his coverage, is paid an indemnity with a certificate of indemnity. Separate loss settlements are made on each farm when more than one is insured. This certificate may be:

Converted into cash by returning it to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation and receiving a check;

Used to obtain a loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, either directly or through private lending agencies, if the farmer is eligible and loans are available;

Used to obtain wheat, if wheat is available.

Your crop insurance contract can be assigned on a yearly basis for a loan with which to raise a crop or to pay operating expenses, if you are eligible for a loan.

Your crop insurance contract can be automatically transferred with the sale or purchase of the crop.

Your crop insurance contract protects your wheat from the time the seed is planted until the wheat is harvested but not beyond October 31 of the current crop year, unless the period of insurance is specifically extended in writing by the Corporation.

You must apply for insurance before you plan your wheat, but not later than the final day set for receiving applications in your State. See your county AAA committee today about the yield and premium for YOUR farm!

Crop insurance is another part of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program which has been helping all the farmers in the Nation. It is written by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture.
